Senate Resolution 99-03(original)

Whereas Louisiana State University is a major consumer of paper and paper products; and

Whereas a concern exists within the university community that policies and practices at Louisiana State University should encourage a more environmentally sustainable use of resources, particularly as related to paper consumption and the resultant generation of waste.

Therefore, be it resolved that the LSU Faculty Senate urges the university community to pursue policies and practices aimed at sustainable use of paper and paper products including increased use of electronic communication, increased efficiency in the consumption of paper, increased reuse and recycling of paper, and increased use of post-consumer recycled paper and alternative fiber paper.

Senate Resolution 99-03(revised)

Whereas Louisiana State University is a major consumer of paper and paper products; and

Whereas a concern exists within the university community that policies and practices at Louisiana State University should encourage wise use of resources, particularly as related to paper consumption and the resultant generation of waste.

Therefore, be it resolved that the LSU Faculty Senate urges the university community to pursue policies and practices aimed at sustainable use of paper and paper products including increased use of electronic communication, increased efficiency in the consumption of paper, increased reuse and recycling of paper, and increased use of post-consumer recycled paper.
